DATE NEEDED BY:

To obtain optimum performance from your racket, you should have it restrung per season the number of times you play per week e.g. if you play twice a week, it is recommended to have two restrings per year.

While we promise to take the utmost care with your racket, we cannot be held responsible for any damage while in our care. Frames can break (exceedingly rarely!) during stringing because of the release and application of tension and hairline cracks may not always be apparent. By requesting us to restring your frame, you accept the very small risk this entails. Similarly, once your frame is strung to the tension you have requested and signed for, it cannot be amended without incurring further charge.
